

Leading MBA transformed and fast-tracked for modern professionals

Working professionals across the globe can now achieve their career aspirations—on their terms—through Australian Institute of Business’s progressive Fast-Track MBA

Australian Institute of Business (AIB) today announced the Fast-Track MBA, a new, contemporary take on their leading online MBA program. With millions of working professionals around the world re-evaluating their futures, AIB’s Fast-Track MBA allows students—in Australia and abroad—to achieve their masters’ qualifications in as little as 12 months*.

With more than 16,000 graduates from 95 countries, AIB MBA’s position as a national and global leader was recently reconfirmed by achieving a Tier One 8th place national and Tier One (#28) global ranking in CEO Magazine (February 2022).

Jo Thomas, AIB’s CEO said COVID-19 had transformed workplaces and careers, with millions of professionals considering what they need to do to have more meaningful careers and fulfilling lives.

“MBAs are globally renowned for providing graduates with executive credentials to expand their career opportunities and, by launching our Fast-Track MBA, we’re accelerating these opportunities for working professionals.

“The Fast-Track MBA combines our practical business education expertise with our industry-leading online learning capability, providing students with a flexible experience and accelerated career outcomes—from anywhere in the world.

“Working professionals who are currently reevaluating their career and lifestyles that enroll in the Fast-Track MBA before 4 April 2022, can now structure their program and conclude all courses by May 2023,” said Ms Thomas.

Dave Whiting, Director of DGW Consulting and AIB’s 2021 MBA Valedictorian said he studied and completed his MBA at AIB while his family travelled across Africa during 2020 and Europe in 2021.

“I knew what I wanted from the MBA and halfway through, as my professional opportunities aligned with the course’s practical learning experiences, I decided to complete my studies faster than the traditional MBA offered.

“The AIB’s new Fast-Track MBA would suit professionals who know what they want to achieve, are focused on applying practical learning experiences in the real-world and are prepared to knuckle down.

“I went for it so that I could focus on my next career move and long-term aspirations of starting my own management consulting business,” said Mr Whiting.

The next intake of students The Fast-Track MBA from Term 3, with an enrollment cutoff on the 4th April. For more information, visit <https://www.aib.edu.au/courses/aib-mba/>
